THIRD PARTY PROSPECTS.

The election in Alabams suggests the question whether the Alliance or Third party movement will prove a failure verywhere else as it has proved in that State, and will disappoint both the hopes and the fears of the politicians.

It seems certain that the element which it has been supposed might produce a he is not, if he is a lumatic he is a ites a day and prescribes for every case of powerless in the South. If it was to succeed in upsetting old party lines in any Southern State it was likely to be in Alabama. Failing there, it is not at all probable it will break the solid South in any other State.

Will it be equally powerless in the West? This cannot be known until after the election. But we have the experience mond scarfpin in the cake of congenied Western States, and it does not seem during the sunstroke spell.
